MISSION STATEMENT

The Texas Geocaching Association (TXGA) is a volunteer organization. We strive to be the foremost advocate for Geocaching in Texas and to promote the family-oriented activity of geocaching through a central website, social media, workshops, events and information displays, while encouraging responsible stewardship of public lands. TXGA is committed to celebrating the diversity of our membership in all regions of Texas and beyond. From finders to hidiers, veteran to novice geocachers, our differences allow us to serve and support each other while building a dynamic geocaching environment in Texas and the greater community.

Southeast Texas Rep – georeyna
Elisa Reynozo

My name is Elisa Reynozo and my geoname is georeyna and I am the SETX Representative for Texas Geocaching Association. I was introduced to geocaching by my neighbor, Rhonda Pope, aka The Popeteers on August 8, 2005. Rhonda was already a geocacher and wanted me to join her because we both had small children, and we could take them for a walk in the park and find caches. The first cache I found, in Meyer Park, was a camo'd pill container and it blended so well with the vines that it took me some time to spot. Finally, I spotted the cache! Yay! I found a few more caches that day which went from days to twenty years.

Fast forward to today and I recollect all the wonderful events, geocaches, and group trips I have taken just for the sake of geocaching. I have geocached all over the United States, except for Alaska and Idaho. I joined fellow geocachers, LuckyFeather, Ivanhoe42 and MsPatt to explore the upper east coast of the United States. Nov64, Pritzen and TxTravelers on a trip to Iceland, and I am enjoying current trips with Rich and Lola to clear out state counties; currently we are tackling Oklahoma. I have been extremely lucky to join Nov64 and Pritzen traveling all over the U.S. and who have assisted me in finishing my Texas County Challenges. I have seen great caches and met great geocachers - too many to list, but it has been wonderful.

I enjoy being the Southeast Texas Representative. I have had the privilege of meeting people from all over Texas and work with them during the Texas Challenge and Texas Roundup. I want to thank all the SETX geocachers who support Texas Geocaching Association. They are one group I can truly count on. They are the backbone of the Southeast Texas Geocaching community, and I could not be prouder of all their accomplishments in the SETX region. I have three fellow SETX geocachers who are part of the Texas Geocaching Board, and they all have worked hard to make Texas Geocaching what it is today. Without MsPatt, Ca$hQueen and TxHistLady, we would not have the group that is representing Southeast Texas today. Thanks to all and I look forward to working with TXGA in the future.

25th ANNIVERSARY LAB ADVENTURE GEOART Floresville, Texas

How would you like to contribute to the first and only Adventure Lab Geoart in Texas?

Geocachers from all over our Great State, and beyond, have collaborated to create a one-of-a-kind Adventure Lab Geoart celebrating the 25th Anniversary of Geocaching!

If you have an available Adventure Lab credit sitting in your app, you can still join the effort by contributing your credit and becoming part of this historic work of art which also includes more than 40 mystery caches!

Here's how:

- 1) Confirm you have an Adventure Lab Credit (check your profile in your Lab Adventure app).
- 2) Email thewildrose11663@gmail.com as soon as possible before spaces fill up – deadline to publish is Feb. 10.
- 3) You will receive a list of Texas-themed topics that are still available to choose from. Select a topic.
- 4) Get confirmation of your topic.
- 5) Get additional information needed to set up your Adventure Lab.
- 6) Set up your Adventure Lab, non-sequential, multiple choice and with the indicated geofence.
- 7) Make public and advise thewildrose11663@gmail.com.
- 8) This Adventure Lab will be owned and maintained by you.

You don't want to miss it!

Cacher of the Month

North Texas

TravelingGeek

TXGA: Tell us a little about yourself.

TravelingGeek: I'm a software consultant with a love for travel — so far, I've logged over 1.4 million flight miles! When I'm not working or traveling, I'm geocaching, which has become a major part of my life. I also have a strong connection to Scouting — both of my kids, PuzzlePainter and ThePaperPilot, are third-generation Eagle Scouts. I've even integrated geocaching into my work as a Scout leader.

TXGA: How did you get started caching?

TravelingGeek: I first heard about geocaching from an article in Scouting magazine. My family and I started geocaching together, but it quickly became something I incorporated into my Scout leadership. One of my favorite events was for the Cub Scouts. I set up about six super easy caches, and we gave the parents backup hints to make sure each group had success. The big finale was a surprise — the last "cache" was marked at the center of the soccer field. Since we'd started near there, no one expected anything special. But when the kids returned, they found a cooler full of ice cream cups waiting for them! Seeing their excitement was unforgettable.

TXGA: How did you come up with your caching name?

TravelingGeek: Oh, that's a fun story! I initially started with GTL6645, which was just a random part of my email address. Not very creative, right? Once I got a better feel for the game, I switched to TravelingGeek. It reflects who I am — a tech enthusiast who travels a lot for work and fun. The name has stuck with me ever since.

TXGA: What do you most enjoy about geocaching?

TravelingGeek: I was already traveling frequently before I discovered geocaching, but most of my free time was spent in hotel rooms or visiting random "local attractions." Geocaching gave me a way to turn those trips into mini adventures. Whether it's a quick park-and-grab in a parking lot or finding the oldest cache in a state or country, there's always something exciting to do. One of my favorite additions to the game was the introduction of favorite points. They make it easy to find the most interesting caches nearby, especially when I'm on a tight schedule.

TXGA: What are some highlights of your geocaching career so far?

TravelingGeek: There have been so many memorable moments! Here are a few that stand out:

•My 1,000th find: It was inside a C-130 airplane... at the bottom of a lake! (Cache: CHUM's Mammoth Divecache)

•A First-to-Find in China: I was lucky enough to grab an FTF at Tashan Culture Park (塔山公园文化广场).

•Multi-continent friendships: I've made some amazing geocaching friends, and I've had the privilege of caching with some of them on multiple continents.

•A velodrome adventure in France:

One DNF led to a completely unexpected experience. While searching for a cache at the French National Velodrome, I saw a sign advertising beginner cycling lessons. Despite being 20 years out of shape and not understanding most of the instructions (which were in French), I signed up for the next class. I had ridden tens of thousands of miles in my younger days, including charity rides like the Boston-to-NYC AIDS ride, but I'd never ridden a fixed-gear bike or on a sloped track. It was incredible, and I'm so glad I took the chance!

•Guam and Tokyo layovers: I've extended trips just to geocache. For example, I took a 24-hour layover in Guam while flying home from Hong Kong, and another in Tokyo on the way back from Macau, specifically to grab some geocaches. Those quick detours added so much fun to my travels.

TXGA: What else would you like to share?

TravelingGeek: Geocaching has been an incredible journey for me. It's more than just finding hidden containers — it's about exploring new places, meeting amazing people, and creating unforgettable memories. Whether I'm caching solo or with friends and family, every experience is unique. I can't wait to see where this adventure takes me next!

CACHE OF THE MONTH

SOUTHEAST TEXAS

Stardate: -359331.14,

Captain Rathergohiking and his Imperial Oaks Special Forces detect a UFO dropping at Zenith at an Azimuth of 60°. The troop of 30 split into two teams, taking opposite directions around Lake Holman. As both groups close in on the ship and its batallion on the ground, the unidentified beings scatter, leaving their Alien Scout to fend for itself. Captain Rathergohiking jumps into action, neutralizing the subject and swiftly decommissioning its electronic components, as the alien ship turns into a flash of light and goes off into the horizon and back to Zenith.

The captured scout is now secured among a special hieroglyph that is only visible from an aerial view, as to warn the extraterrestrials that any attempt to retrieve their scout will be subject to the wrath and skills of the Imperial Oaks Special Forces,

You are all invited to join the Imperial Oaks Special Forces to defend our planet from these Alien invaders!

(Sung to the tune of "Love is in the Air".)

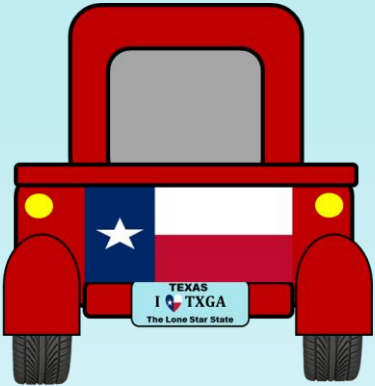

Texas Caching's in the air... every time I look around.
Caching's in the air... every sight and every sound (FTF alert).
And I don't know if I'm being foolish,
And I don't know if I'm being wild,
But it's something that I always believe in:
I'll find it - no PAF needed dialed.

Ohhh...

Caching's in the air... in the branches of the trees (nano).
Caching's in the air... in the whisper of the sea (Q5).
And I don't know if I'm just dreamin',
Or I'm going a bit insane.
But I looked in the same spot a long time.
And I looked there once more again...

Caching's in the air...
Caching's in the air...
Oh oh ooh, Oh oh ooh, Oh oh ooh.
